Eligible Use of Funds:

Eligible use of funds is for business purposes only and includes working capital needs such as payroll, mortgage or rent, utility payments, inventory and COVID-19 expenses.

How is the Loan Forgiven:

All your business needs to do is use the funds received through this program to pay for business expenses such as payroll, mortgage or rent, utility payments, inventory and COVID-19 expenses. Once you show proof that the funds were used as agreed, the loan will become a grant - you will not need to pay the money back. Additionally, this forgivable loan will not go against your credit!

Loans will be eligible for forgiveness pending documented proof that funds were used as agreed and that they re-open (or remain open) for a minimum of 90 days after receipt of the money.

How Applications are Evaluated:

Applications for forgivable loans will open on September 8 and will remain open until September 25. A link to the application will be posted on the City’s website when available. You can also request a paper copy application. Once the application process closes, all submissions will be considered equally.

- Financial strength and credit worthiness of the business and of the business owner
- Longevity in business
- Storefront businesses, especially those most impacted including retail shops and restaurants offering take out services
- Local economic and community impact of business
- Businesses located in the Central Business District
- Impact on the streetscape of Lebanon City
- Number of employees
- Likelihood of survival if these funds are received
- Severity of current need
- Historically disadvantaged populations

If you are considered for a forgivable loan through this process, you may be required to provide additional information and documentation.

- Special consideration will be given to those businesses located in the downtown district.
- The Review Committee reserves the right to add further priorities or change eligibility criteria based upon applicant pool.
- Businesses that have received any federal relief funding including the SBA Economic Injury Disaster Loan advance (EIDL) and SBA Payroll Protection Program (PPP) forgivable loan may still apply for our loan program; however, use of funds may not be duplication of benefit.
